Paula Champion-Braig calls to find out what is going on with her Father's former Dry cleaner. She provided her e-mail and phone in case there is any word on what can be done to close the case. I inform her that a work plan that will be submitted soon and I will review all sites to see what the impediments to closure are. She asks me to let her know when that is available and offers to answer any questions I might have on the operation of the plant.
