Due to problems profiling the excavated soil into the landfill we have not been able to backfill the excavation of oil-affected soil at the subject site. The backfill operation is scheduled to take place tomorrow, Thursday, & Friday of this week. In your letter to the owners of the site you requested a report documenting the excavation & pilot study to be issued on April 14, 2009. Given that excavation project is not complete; I am requesting that the report date for the project be extended to May 14, 2009. If you have any questions or need any more information please contact me.

Ron.
