Hi James,

I just got off the phone with State Water Board staff. Our discussion included the status of an irrigation well known to exist at 1955 Seminary Avenue, Oakland. We know it existed in the mid-1990s and were wondering if the Alameda County Public Works Agency (ACPWA) has issued a permit for its destruction in the past 20 years.

Please let me know if your agency has any records regarding the wells destruction.

Thx, Keith
