Hi Mark,

This email is to inform you that on December 21, 2010, PG&E hooked up the electricity at the site. On January 5, 2011, CRA started operating the Low Flow Air Sparge System (LFAS) and will conduct a three month pilot test. As stated CRA's June 7, 2010 letter to Alameda County Environmental Health, we will prepare and submit a comprehensive report by June 6, 2011 (six months after LFAS start-up). The report will include the air sparge well installation details, well/boring logs, pilot test results, field procedures, laboratory results, confirmation vapor point sampling procedures and results, and a corrective action plan.

If you have any questions or comments, please contact me at the phone number below.

Thank you,
Kiersten
