Hi Kiersten,

I've attached the signed form; however, altered the search distance to 2,000 feet to make the search a bit more comprehensive within the LTCP process. Because the LTCP wording for wells or water surface bodies is that the well or water surface body "is not within 1,000 feet of the plume". If we assume a plume is 1,000 feet long, then wells can't be within 1,000 feet of that, (or 2,000 feet from a site). The difference usually doesn't add much time, and amounts to usually only a few wells. This should have been laid out better in the letter, but was not. My intent is to have you / GHD only do it once.

If you have questions, please let me know.
