Hi Cherie,

In order to comply with the RWQCB's 30-day review period, attached is the closure summary for the referenced site, located at 5885 Hollis Street, Emeryville, CA. If no comments from the RWQCB are received within the 30-day review period, ACEH's will proceed with case closure.

The site was redeveloped and a significant amount of soil was excavated to approximately 15 feet bgs across a majority of the site. It was a Unocal bulk oil terminal in a former life. Residual contamination will be left in place at the south end that appears to be largely attributable to the immediately adjacent 76 / Chevron service station, although contamination from former uses may also be present. The site will be placed in the Emeryville permit tracking system. No wells were installed.

Should you have questions, please let me know.
Best,
