SUBJECT: Status of Excavation Activities, CalMat-Jamieson Property, Pleasanton, California

Dear Ms. Chu:

This letter serves to update the ACDEH as to the excavation activities at the above referenced property. Excavation of petroleum impacted soils was restarted at this site on November 22, 1994, extending the excavation to the northwest.

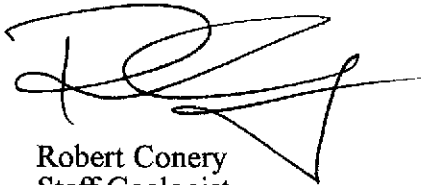

Excavation activities were continued until December 16, 1994, at which time CalMat acquired information indicating that contamination in the area being excavated was on an adjoining property and apparently related to a second offsite source. Property line markers were located by CalMat that apparently confirming that the property line had been crossed.

So as not to encroach further onto the adjoining property, the excavation was halted until further notice. Limited excavation in the southeast corner of the overall excavation will continue pending weather conditions. The excavation observation and analytical results will be forthcoming in a report to be issued to Jamieson in the near future.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to call Mr. Guy Jett or Mr. John Romie at (510) 484-1700.

Sincerely,

KLEINFELDER, INC.
