Responsible Party Identification Background

Alameda County Environmental Health (ACEH) names a "Responsible Party," as defined under 23 C.C.R Sec. 2720. Section 2720 defines a responsible party 4 ways. An RP can be:

- 1) "Any person who owns or operates an underground storage tank used for the storage of any hazardous substance."
- 2) "In the case of any underground storage tank no longer in use, any person who owned or operated the underground storage tank immediately before the discontinuation of its use."
- 3) "Any owner of property where an unauthorized release of a hazardous substance from an underground storage tank has occurred."
- 4) "Any person who had or has control over an underground storage tank at the time of or following an unauthorized release of a hazardous substance."

ACEH has named the responsible parties for this site as detailed below.

Responsible Party Identification

Existence of Unauthorized Release

A 10,000-gallon diesel UST was removed in August 1990. Two sidewall soil samples were collected and one pit water sample was collected. The northern soil sample contained 17 mg/kg TPHd, and was nondetectable for BTEX; the southern was nondetectable for TPHd but contained 0.0067 mg/kg benzene, 0.0069 toluene, and 0.089 xylenes. Pit water was nondetectable for all compounds. Based on the results of soil sampling an unauthorized release occurred from the UST.

In July 1991 soil bores B-1 and B-2 were installed as a part of a property transaction in August 1991 and three soil samples from each bore were submitted to an analytical laboratory; each was nondetectable for these compounds. Water was not encountered to the total explored depth of 12 feet bgs; bores were allowed to remain open for up to 4 hours.

Responsible Party Identification

Frank Sanchez was a tank owner or operator, and had control of the tank at the time of the UST removal. Mr. Sanchez has been named as a "Responsible Party" under Definitions 1 and 4, above.

Manuel Senna was the property owner at the time of UST removal. Mr. Senna has been named as a "Responsible Party" under Definition 3, above.

Bob D. and Lorraine L. Bingaman are the current property owners and have been named as a "Responsible Party" under Definition 3, above.
