Hello Ms. Drogos,

Thank you for taking the time to return my call yesterday. It was good speaking with you. I am the owner of the apartment building located at 640 Brooklyn Avenue, Oakland. Again, I apologize for all the communication you have been receiving regarding this matter the past few weeks. Per your request, I have asked everyone else involved to communicate only through me from now on.

It is my understanding that the source (750 gallon UST) of the contamination (home heating oil) at the site has been removed; a second excavation has taken place as far down as feasible; a substantial reduction of the contamination level has been achieved; and that the property sits at the top of Haddon Hill, well above sea and Lake Merritt levels.

If I may, I would like to provide a bit of background information regarding the UST: I have owned this apartment building for over 35 years, since 1978, and never knew there was a UST located on the property until late last year, when I put the property up for sale. The building had obviously been converted to natural gas years prior to my acquiring it, most likely at least two owners before me. I authorized the tank removal in September 2012 immediately upon learning of its existence and Golden Gate Tank began the removal process immediately.

For your convenience, I can also be reached by telephone at 650-574-3773 most afternoons except Tuesdays or any other time that is convenient for you by pre-arrangement. I will make myself available and look forward to working with you on this matter.

With regards,
Jeff Jung
