Jerry,
The Atherton St, Hayward site has been officially transferred; however, I am seeking any relevant reports or communications from Hugh (see below). I will forward (next email) the UST closure report the consultant sent, so you can place it in the job folder once you determine the job number.

Thanks Laurent.

Hugh – Are there any files (reports, etc.) involving the case that it would be appropriate to send here? Electronic PDFs are preferred. At this point all we have is the UST closure. Are there any other relevant reports, communications, etc?
Thanks,

Hi Mark,

Yes, I am considering this case as transferred from the Water Board to Alameda County Environmental Health. This is based on conversations with all involved agencies. Laurent do you agree?

Sorry for not giving a more powerful answer. Since the loss of the LIA status last year by Hayward, it is my understanding that the City of Hayward LUFT cases are now under the jurisdiction of the Water Board and as such we do not have the authority to transfer a case from the Water Board to Alameda County Environmental Health. Saying that we are just beginning to work out processes with the Water Board and Alameda County. I'm sure it will be clearer in the future.

Thanks for working this case!

Hi Hugh,

Thanks for the response. I just want to clarify - was that the transfer, and should I consider this ACEH's project to move forward now?

Hi Mark,

The Hayward Fire Department is considering this a "leaking underground fuel tank" contamination case. Based on communications with Luarent Meiller of the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board and Gerry Wickham and yourself from Alameda County Environmental Health all agencies are in agreement that your office will be handling the "leaking underground fuel tank" contamination case at the Housing Authority of Alameda County located at 22941 Atherton Street, Hayward.

Hugh,

I wanted to followup on this site (and any others we've briefly touched on) in order to determine when ACEH should consider the case transferred; particularly since we do not have an established protocol just yet. As you are aware, Glenn Young sent an electronic copy of their final report to me, and I didn't want it hanging out there if you considered this enough of a transfer of information. However, presuming there is more to the file, likely other reports, or critical communications, I thought it appropriate to check with you first before proceeding. To this point I've presumed that you will pass appropriate files along; perhaps in a meeting? I've copied Jerry Wickham so he knows when we should open a new case number. Let me know how you would like to proceed.

Regards,
