Doug Lovell of Streamborn called. They were contemplating preparation of a CAP and wanted some guidance. I asked whether they had sufficient information to prepare a CAP. Does not appear to be soil vapor data and plume extent not known. They do not believe soil vapor sampling is needed due to low benzene concentrations in groundwater. Doug Lovell does not want to do further definition of plume extent since that would involve drilling inside the Eandi building downgradient. He may pull together trendlines to attempt to extrapolate plume extent along centerline. I indicated they should present their recommendations in next monitoring report or can submit sooner if RP wants to move forward now.
