Jim,

My role as regulator is not that of an intermediary between former and current consultants. I suggest you direct your inquiry to the client or Clearwater. If there are compliance issues on this case, I will direct them to the responsible party. You may wish to check Geotracker again as I did find that there were some coordinates recently uploaded.

Jerry:

We need coordinates to generate a site map using GIS. However, we found out that the only available well data from Geotracker for 4301 San Leandro is analytical data. Survey data was never uploaded for the wells out there, with the exception of z data for wells MW-1 to MW-3. As they are out of compliance with Geotracker, could you please fire an e-mail to Clearwater to ask them upload the survey data or forward the survey data to you ASAP. We may have to do survey for all wells if Clearwater has never done that. Please let me know what you have. Thanks a lot.
