Phone call from Cynthia West. She operates a day care center located on West MacArthur Boulevard approximately 190 feet southeast of the site. She received a notice that ACEH is considering the site for case closure and is concerned about contamination from the Shell site. I indicated that the notice is sent out to residents and owners in the surrounding area as a notification and does not necessarily indicate that a threat to their health exists. I also indicated that I was not aware of any contamination from the site that would extend to her property. Ms. West wanted her site to be tested for contamination. I indicated that we had no basis to conclude that testing of her property was warranted based on what we know about the extent of contamination. The residual contamination is largely within the Shell station property and groundwater contamination extends to the west beneath West MacArthur Boulevard. I indicated that Ms. West is free to have testing conducted on her property at her direction. If contamination were detected, she should report it to the regulatory agencies. Ms. West asked if any other property owners had requested testing. I indicated that no other property owners have contacted me. I referred Ms. West to the ACHE case files and GeoTracker to review reports on the site.
