Phone call returned to Charmane Curtis. She called to inquire about status of site. The site is in verification monitoring due to elevated off-site concentrations. Downgradient concentrations have not decreased in the off-site area at the rate we hoped following excavation and injections on site. No imminent plans to close the case. Concentrations in groundwater are above criteria typically considered for case closure. However, development of site may be possible concurrent with groundwater monitoring. They are considering apartments with no basement.
