RE: Stockpile Soil Disposal
Peralta Maintenance Yard, 501 5th Avenue, Oakland, California

Dear Mr. Mibach:

Per request of Alameda County Health Care Services agency, this letter report documents disposal of the stockpiled soil on the above referenced site.

Soil Removal and Disposal

Five underground storage tanks were installed prior to the 1960's. The tanks were used for storage of fuel and waste oil for the City of Oakland Corporation Yard. The tanks consisted of two 6,000-gallon gasoline, one 2,000-gallon diesel, one 2,000-gallon ethyl (premium) gasoline and one 550-gallon waste oil tank. In 1980 Peralta Community College District acquired the property. The District abandoned the existing five underground tanks by filling with water and installed three fiberglass underground storage tanks. The new tanks consisted of two 6,000-gallon and one 4,000-gallon fiberglass tanks to store gasoline. The new tanks were installed approximately 150 feet from the original tanks.

In 1992, the five originals underground storage tanks were removed. Approximately 152 cubic yards of soil was removed from the tank excavation and stockpiled on-site pending disposal. On April 14, 1994, the stockpiled soil was disposed at Forward Landfill in Stockton, California. Weight tags and landfill tickets are attached.

In November 1994, three underground gasoline tanks were removed from the property. During removal of the gasoline tanks, approximately 272 cubic yards of soil and 128 cubic yards of pea gravel was generated and stockpiled on-site. On April 14 - 15, 1994, the stockpiled material was disposal at Redwood landfill in Vacaville and Calmat in Pleasanton. Landfill tickets and weight tags for the soil removal and disposal are attached.

If you have any questions regarding the soil removal or disposal, please feel free to contact me.

Sincerely,

Misty Kaltreider
Project Geologist
