Jerry

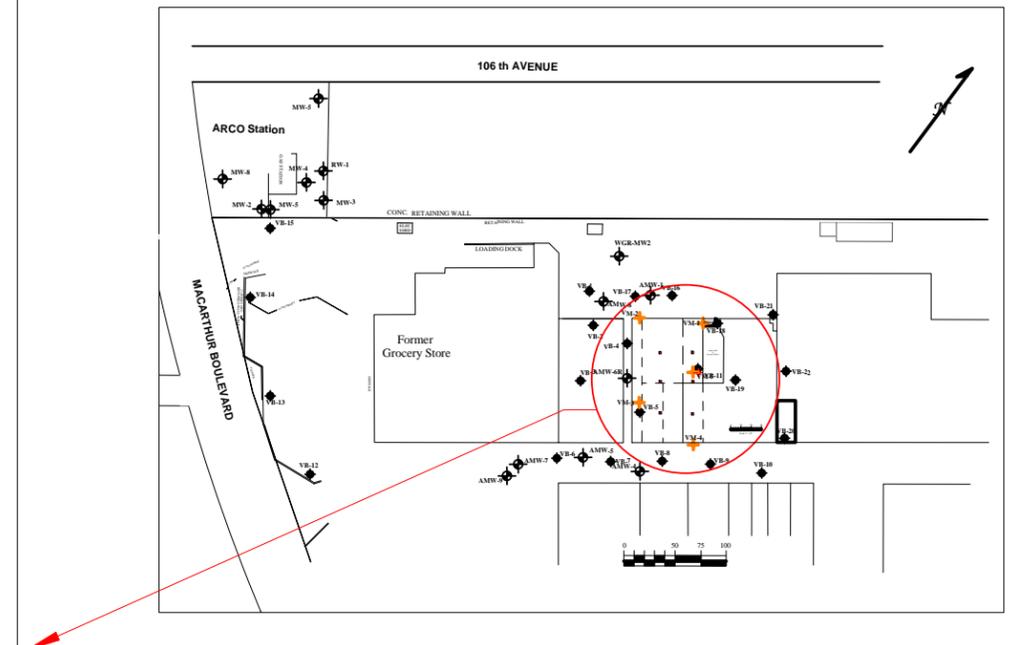

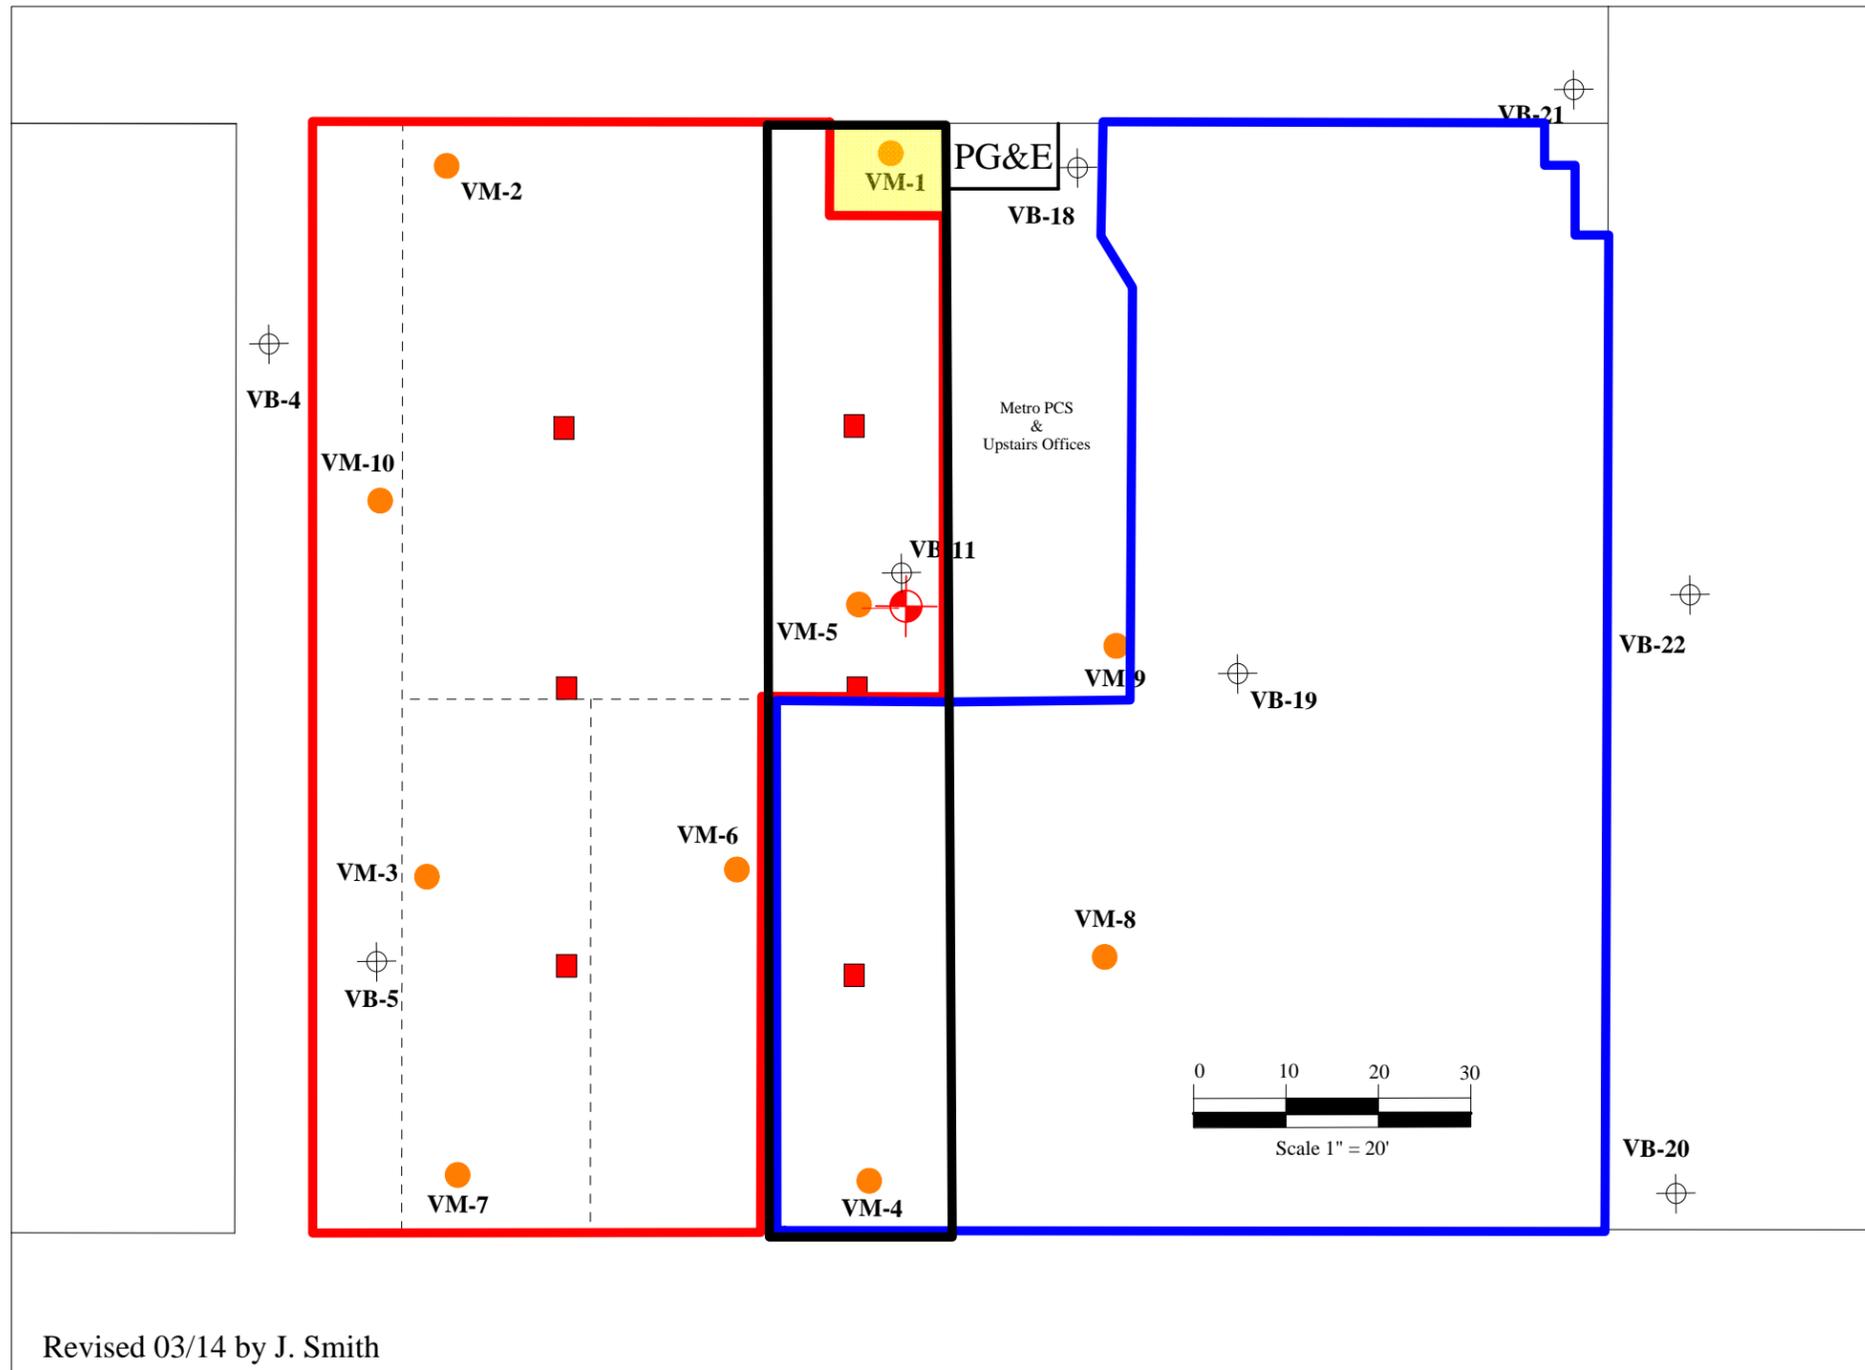

I wanted to provide you with another update regarding site activities at the subject site. As you are aware, our system installation activities have been ongoing at the site, and as of March 3, 2014, the system has been operating at the site. Our system is thus far has been successful at both removing mass PCE from the subsurface and creating a negative pressure gradient beneath the concrete slab.

I would also like to update you that the Anna's Linens tenant commenced store opening on March 6, 2014 and the Rainbow Apparel is set to commence operation on March 27, 2014. Please see the attached Draft site plan to view final sump locations, monitoring point locations, and existing retail development. We will submit a formal installation report in the coming several weeks, but I wanted to provide you with this updated email while we work on the report. Please feel free to call with questions.

Regards
