Alameda County
Environmental Health

Glenn,

I just spoke to Scott Philliber with Viking Drillers. He said they were not required to do any permitting (and hence provide any record of destruction) as in Alameda County dewatering wells are not considered actual wells.

If you would like to speak to him directly, he'd be happy to talk to you about this in more detail. His number is 916 372-4993.

The dewatering scope was completed 2 years ago, I am not sure how much documentation we could still locate - I know we do not have any invoices or sub daily reports any more for this project. There is a small chance that we have archived this on our daily reports, but I would need to dig into this deeper.

Thanks,

Elke

Elke,

Thanks. If they did not issue any sort of well destruction document, I would think they documented the work through invoicing or daily reporting.
Thanks again for your help.

Glenn,

I'm waiting for a call back from Viking Drillers who did this work to see if they can provide anything. I'll let you know as soon as I find out.

Thanks,

Elke

Elke,

Thanks for getting the information together. Any information or documentation on destruction of the wells would be great.

Glenn,

Here is the information I received from Pacific States on the discharge permit documentation. This does not specifically address the deconstruction of the dewatering wells, although it does address when the permit was closed. I will see if I can get any information on the deconstruction from the sub who did this work.

Thanks,

Elke

Osman, Elke should be able help with Eric Quinn's help. Pacific state did all dewatering treatment and discharge testing, permitting Ect. Viking drilling did all dewatering systems and decommissioning.
