Subject: RO0002862; 6310 Houston Place, Dublin - Status Update

Mr. Khatri,

Regarding the above-referenced site, although the Corrective Action Pilot Test Workplan (dated March 19, 2008) has been approved, my client, Mr. Cary Greyson, is not in a position financially to cover the costs for the pilot test. Please note that although my client is in the UST Cleanup Fund, with the slumping economy, the State in financial crisis, my client's deteriorating financial capability, and the unknown future of the UST CF and the increasing length of time to receive payments, my client is just not in a position financially to cover the costs for the pilot test or even any additional quarterly groundwater sampling events.

On behalf of my client, I am requesting that no further work be performed at the property until my client's financial position improves, along with a significant improvement in the UST CF payment schedule.

Should you wish to contact me in person, you can do so my calling me at (408) 559-7600. Please note that I will be on vacation starting December 29, 2008, but will be back January 6, 2008. Thanks Mr. Khatri.

Subject: New Caseworker for RO0002862; 6310 Houston Place, Dublin

Hello Adrian,

I am the new caseworker for the subject site. Based on a review of the case file here at ACEH and the GeoTracker website, it appears that the Pilot Test Corrective Action Work Plan referenced in your e-mail has not been electronically submitted. Please upload the work plan to both the ACEH ftp server and GeoTracker so that the document may be reviewed.

Since the monitoring wells were installed only last year, please continue quarterly groundwater monitoring to establish contaminant concentration trends.

Please contact me at should you have any questions regarding this e-mail.

Sincerely,

Paresh C. Khatri
