Paresh,

Our consultant, Mehrdad, reminds me that you have requested that we start the interim vapor extraction by tomorrow. When we met in August, we thought that if we started fairly quickly, we could start before the rains and accomplish some cleanup which did not happen. Mehrdad also states that the vapor extraction may not be effective when it is raining heavily but that we could turn it on and off as the rain permits. The group has decided to go ahead with this strategy and will have Mehrdad set the equipment up right away and have him turn it on and off as the rain permits. Although we will not meet tomorrow as the date of getting the system set up, it should be setup soon and Mehrdad will be instructed to run the equipment when appropriate.

Concerning the Montessori Pre School, you have been copied on the correspondence with them. I have tired to answer their questions as best I can. I do not have their list of customers.
