Hi Keith,

I'm sorry I confused you. You are correct, Almar does replace ERS. However, ERS will still be finishing the fieldwork, but you don't have to include ERS in the cc. Forrest Cook of Almar will take care of all the correspondence for our company as our consultant. Thank you.

Best regards,

Mona,

I did not cc Environmental Restoration Services (ERS) in my IRAP approval letter. My understanding was that Almar replaced ERS. Please let me know if ERS will continue as joint consultant on the subject fuel leak case, as you have indicated below. If so, I will continue to include them as a cc.

Thank you,
Keith Nowell
